Mind-Body Mental Fitness (MBMF)

In times of heightened stress, tools to cope with and move past these feelings and issues are paramount to service members, family members and commands. Fleet and Family Support Centers are proud to announce a new programming initiative called Mind-Body Mental Fitness (MBMF). MBMF is a stress-resiliency program created to help service members, family members and commands better understand how to cope with the stressors that are present as a result of normal everyday life and the Navy lifestyle. This program is designed to promote a culture of excellence as part of the continuum of Warrior Toughness, Expanded Operational Stress Control (E-OSC), and Command Resilience Team (CRT) efforts. MBMF consists of six modules: Stress Resilience, Mindfulness & Meditation, Living Core Values, Flexibility, Problem Solving, and Connection.

Participants can take one module, or all six — the curriculum is designed so that it can be completed in any sequence. The course includes real-world discussions and skills practice to improve the four domains of resiliency (mind, body, spirit and social) and build toughness, trust and connectedness.

All modules are appropriate for commands, service members, family members, family units, and Family Readiness Groups. See the current schedule of classes or reach out to your Fleet and Family Support Center to schedule your attendance or command briefs.
